Alina spent all of her life taking care of family members. First it was her wife sister and brothers, then her own children, then her husband's parents. A reminder not to the little old lady with white hair that were my great mother on brackets, a pink silk pillow, and a small white doll which was broken in under a week.

1 OCCU Engineer

He led a long life filled with accomplishments. His career with Eastman Kodak Company was particularly distinguished. He retired in 1947 from the position of Administrative Supervisor of Film Quality Control. During his 35 year career there, he met everyone from George Eastman and Thomas Edison themselves, to movie stars and diplomats. After "retiring", he went to work helping to restore Eastman House and to develop exhibits on early photographic equipment. He supervised the move and restoration of the house in Waterville NY where George Eastman was born. That house is now on display at the Genesee Country Village in Mumford, NY.

He had many interests outside his career. He loved gardening, traveling, and the outdoors. He was still skiing on his 68th birthday in 1960 when Floyd King interviewed him for the Rochester Democrat and Chronicle.

1 OCCU Photo Colorist

Barbara was the youngest child in her family. Although blest with artistic talent, her depressions and her weight gave her family some worries. Later in life, she found a great deal of comfort in working for her church. Many of the members at Bethel Full Gospel Church remember her for the time, and kindnesses which she gave freely. Her neices and nephews remember her amazing eye for detail. It shows in the beautiful hand colored photographs taken at our graduations and weddings, and it shows in all of the handmade gifts we received through the years.

THE SHERMAN FAMILIES

The following information was compiled by using the resources of Kindred Konnections, My Trees, the vast records of the Mormon Family Histories including the documents filed by those international sources to the library, among others. The data submitted on each of the Sherman ancestors has been rated by the documentation provided by those submitting data. All material submitted is rated by the amount and source of the documentation provided. The rating scale is as follows:

1. Exceptional documentation
2. Good documentation
3. Moderate documentation
4. Limited documentation
5. No documentation

The information which is provided below is abstracted from those entries rated as exceptional documentation. In some cases, missing data was provided by combining several available sources and, in conflicting bits of evidence, the most likely to be true, after multiple searches, was used. In the earliest years, dates appear to be estimated on the basis of evidence. Those dates are indicated by the symbol (~) before the date. It is hoped that the direct line of tracing shows the union point of the major families.
